Personal Statement.

Background

I am highly interested in all digital media, all of which I am learning more and more about at a dramatic rate at the moment. I was originally drawn to multimedia through my film and video courses at college. This taught me to film, produce, manipulate and edit video using a wide range of techniques. This led to an interest in photography and Photoshop use, both of which I found highly stimulating and enjoyable. Since graduation, I have become further involved in website design and development, and have branched out into professional photography and journalism.

Character

I think my character to be well rounded and balanced. I take pleasure in expanding my knowledge of any subject, and am always eager to learn more. I wear my heart on my sleeve, and am sure calculated tongue in cheek humour is an important principal to master.

In summary, circumstance that make me: -
Happy: design, globetrotting, surfing, music

Sad: environmental damage, rain, smoking, ironing
Relax: reading, tai chi chuan, walking, guitar
Stress: sociopaths, when the yoke breaks, health, dancing

Travel

For the past 15 months, I completed two major life-changing journeys. My first was to hitch-hike solo from England to South Africa, crossing Eastern Europe, The Middle East and then Africa. The second was to ride a motorcycle 5000km across Southern China. I have done my fair share of exploration since the age of 17, which has taken me across forty-three countries on every continent in the world. Travel is one of the most rewarding experiences, and has opened my eyes to the sort of person I am and developed my character in a numerous ways. I have gained fortitude and independence and have had to adapt to new, challenging and often difficult situations.

Interests

My main passion is exploration, and to generally seek out further understanding of this world, specifically natural history, people and culture. Paired with travel, I like to test the durability, resilience and stamina of my own body and mind by pursuing challenging goals, often involving long distances and extreme environments. Other interests included playing classical/acoustic guitar, reading and research, being with my friends and meeting new people. I also enjoy folk, country and punk music, cycling, swimming and walking. I generally strive to be happy, to relax, to be engaging and to be peaceful.

Best project

My most outstanding pieces of work to date would be a website for a bike company called 'PB byks', for whom I entirely produced and branded. In addition to this, I have an extensive photography archive which I am very proud of. Finally, a project I am very happy with is the WFCCN website, which is a multi-lingual website for the world board of nursing. The site has a complex intergraded content management system allowing the client full editing ability. It's the most advanced and intricate website I've build to date.

Future

My main focus now that I have finished my previous journey is to continue to push the limits of my media and design capabilities and expand on what I already know and can do. I also intend to develop my journalism and photojournalist.
